

Yogesh Bandhu is a Social Scientist by training. Currently he is working at Giri Institute of Development Studies, Lucknow as Research Associate. Earlier he has been associated with Centre for Contemporary Studies and Research (CCSR), Lucknow as Honorary Fellow and Research Consultant. He has graduated as social researcher as Doctoral Fellow of Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) at Giri Institute of Development Studies, Lucknow and further as Senior Research Fellow with United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD)-India under Trade Related Research Capacity Building (TRRCB) Program. He has research expertise in Development Economics, International Trade and International Development Institutions and carrier in academics in teaching capacity, edifying undergraduate and postgraduate students with Colleges & State and Central Universities and engaged for last eight years.

As a Social Scientist, he has conducted several field studies and desk researches on his credit on varying issues including Economic Development, Poverty, Hunger, Farmers Distress, Livelihood and many other Socio - Economic aspects of common man's concern. "Overcoming Poverty and Hunger in Bundelkhand" is his latest book. He has published a number of research papers in national and international journals of good repute and regularly writing for new papers, magazines and blogs.